

Apocalypse Later

A guide to the end of the world by Nice Mr Death

by Mark Speed

KEY POINTS

- A humorous guide to End Times mythology
- Based on a cult Edinburgh Fringe show
- Partially illustrated
- Physical book only — can never be published as an ebook due to complex format
- Major PR campaign by BookedPR, Nov to Dec 2012

BOOK DESCRIPTION

God has asked Nice Mr Death to help the human race choose how they want the world to end. As an impartial commentator, Nice Mr Death presents the End Times of the world's major religions – Atheism and Scientology included – as well as those of some ancient civilisations. This is a humorous and well-researched guide to mankind's doomsday mythologies. This book will change your afterlife.

PRAISE

"Speed manages to poke fun at a dangerous subject matter and get away with it ....as a crash course in populist theology it provides some intriguing tidbits." Broadway Baby.

"Funny, fact-based & irreverent," Dr Martin L Poulter; infobomb.org; Wikimedia Associate.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Mark Speed is a comedy writer and performer, with work broadcast on Radio 4 Extra's satirical show Newsjack. His four-star reviewed The End of the World Show was performed in London and at the Edinburgh Fringe in 2011 and 2012. One of his postgraduate qualifications is an MA in Creative Writing (Novels) from City University. He's lived, studied and worked throughout the UK, but currently lives with his books in London. In 1995 he was told he'd never run again, since which time he has completed several marathons.

PUBLICATION DETAILS

Date: August 7th 2012
Subject: Humour
Binding: Paperback
ISBN: 9780957320406
Price: £4.99